Description
Change Race Passings /Race Log buttons to make Race Passings the default display Reason : There is a delay in change of status on the mouse click for the flag buttons. Users arent sure if the click(or function key ) registered right away. New color coded Race Passings however give an instant indication of change of flag status and would be useful to the users. If users want to see the Race Log they can toggle to it.

Tested feature with three computers all tests OK. There is a slight delay noticed from the time the button is clicked to the time the color displays . It is still a better visual aid for the scorers
