Description
When in the race mode (Heats or Mains), if you accidentally assign a transponder to a slot with no associated driver, there is not a way to remove the transponder information from that slot.

If you right click on the driver's name spot there is an option for 'clear driver' which removes the transponder info. (if there is no actual driver, this works, if there is a driver it will clear the driver as well, but they will still have the same transponder when you add them back later)

- Status changed from New to Resolved

- Target version changed from Future to 1.3.50

Added remove transponder menu item to transponder context menu, but realized that the context menu is no longer showing. It should have 'add transponder' and recent transponder menu items, but that functionally no longer works apparently.
